

Laird Cronk

Director

Appointed May 1, 2018, current appointment expires May 1, 2025

Committee Membership: Human Resources; Mandatory Certification

Laird Cronk was elected BC Federation of Labour President in November 2018. The BC Federation of Labour represents the views of more than 500,000 affiliated members from across the province of British Columbia.

Mr. Cronk has previous experience in both labour and business endeavours. A Red Seal Electrician by trade, he worked for multiple electrical contractors on Vancouver Island during the 1980's and 90's in the marine, communication, commercial, industrial and residential sectors, prior to owning and operating an electrical contracting business in Nanaimo.

Mr. Cronk has experience as the Vancouver Island representative for the BC Building Trades Council, prior to working for the BC Ministry of Labour as an Employment Standards Officer and Policy Advisor to the Director of Employment Standards for the Skills Development and Fair Wage Act.

From 2001-2018, Laird Cronk was the International Representative with the 1st District Office of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, servicing IBEW Local Unions throughout British Columbia, Yukon Territory and Alberta, covering electrical construction, maintenance, utility (generation/transmission/distribution), manufacturing and telecommunication sectors.