Issued: July 28, 2010

Program: Residential Construction Framing Technician

To: ITA Training Providers
Residential Construction Industry Training Organization (RCITO)
ACE IT School Districts

RE: REF: 2010 016
CHANGE TO PROGRAM NAME

Timing: Effective: Immediately

Information: Please be advised that the name of the Residential Construction Framing Technician apprenticeship program has been changed to Residential Framing Technician. This name change was proposed by the RCITO and approved by the ITA. Updated documents are posted on the ITA website at www.itabc.ca.

Assessment

In-school Training

Training providers delivering in-school training for the Residential Framing Technician apprenticeship program are required to enter the following assessment result for each apprentice in ITA DirectAccess:

- An in-school mark in the form of a percentage (min. 70% is required for a pass)

The in-school mark is a combined theory and practical assessment determined on the basis of theory and practical subject competencies with weightings determined by the individual training provider.

Successful completion of the in-school training is defined as a score of 70% or greater for the final in-school mark.

Certificate of Qualification (C of Q) Exam

Apprentices registered in the Residential Framing Technician program are required to write a C of Q exam and achieve a mark of 70% or greater after completing their in-school training, in order to be certified.

C of Q exams may be requested by training providers via the usual ITA procedure.

The ITA will administer and invigilate the C of Q exam and score and record exam results in ITADirectAccess.

Note: The ITA in collaboration with RCITO will be initiating a review and update of the assessment guidelines for the Residential Framing Technician apprenticeship program and will advise of any changes to assessment once the review is complete.

Transition Plan

A letter will be sent to all registered apprentices and their sponsors informing them of the change to the program name.
